Desirable Lands for Sale.

Farm of 800 acres in Calhoun County, Alabama within 6 miles of Jacksonville the county seat, 1 mile of the town of Alexandria, and 7 miles of Blue Mountain Station on the Jacksonville & Selma Railroad—350 acres cleared the balance in original forest heavily timbered. This farm is very finely watered by spring branches which head on the place—80 acres of the open land is cedar bottom of very superior quality producing a good season 50 bushels of corn per acre and 1 bale of cotton. Improvements—a large well finished frame barn and all necessary out buildings in a good state of preservation. There is a Baptist Church on the land—and the society in the neighborhood equal to any in the State. This farm in the hands of a good practical farmer could be made one of the most productive in the region in which it is located. It has on it 12 miles of cedar fencing taken off the cedar bottom. Lime stone is very abundant on the place which could be converted into lime at very little cost either for market or for fertilizing purposes on the farm. BILL ARP

Addressee the Lebanon Law School and Gives His Own Sad Experience.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Feb. 1866.

Messrs. C. C. Cummings and others,

Committee:

GENTLEMEN—I have received your kind invitation to address your law school. In the situation by which I am surrounded it is impossible for me to go. I wish I could, for I would like to tell you all I know about law, and it would take me long. I'm now in the law business myself at this place. We are engaged in manufacturing it by wholesale, and after while it will be retailed out by the lawyers to any body that wants it. Its an easy business to make laws, though some of the bills introduced are awfully spelt. To-day I saw a bill, in which "masheerney" was spelt with two essses and four ease. But the greatest difficulty is in understanding the law after it is made. Among lawyers this difficulty dont seem to lie so much in the head as in the pocket. For five dollars a lawyer can luminize some, and more akkordin to pay. But be ought to luminize but one side at a time. The first case I ever had in a justice court, I employed old Bob Liggins, who was a sorter of a self-educated fool. I give him two dollars in advance, and he argued the case as I thought, on two sides, and was more luminous agin me than for me. I lost the case, and found out afterwards that the defendant had employed Liggins after I did, and give him five dollars to lose my case. I look upon this as a warnin to all clients, to pay big fees and keep your lawyers out of temptation.

My experience in litigation have not been satisfactory. I sued Sugar Back onst for the price of a load of shuks. He said he wanted to buy some rudness and I agreed to bring him a load of shuks for two dollars. My wagin got broke and he got tired a waitin, and sent out after the shuks himself. When I called on him for the pay, he seemed surprised, and sed it cost him two dollars and a half to have the shuks hauld, and that I jestly owed him a half a dollar. He was bigger than I was, so I swallowd my bile and sued him. His lawyer pled off for haulin. He pled that the shuks was unousnd; that they were bard by limitations; that they didnt agree with his cow, and that he never got any shuks from me. He spoke about an hour, and alloed to me as a swindler about 45 times. The bedevild jury went out and brought in a verdict agin me for 50 cents and four dollars for costs of suit. I haint saved any shuk on my plantation since, and I dont intend to until it gits less expensive. I look upon this as a warnin to all folks, never to go to law about shuks, or any other small circumstance.

The next trouble I had was with a fellow who hired to dig me a well. He was to dig it for 20 dollars, and I was to pay him in meet and meal, and sich like. The vagabond kept gittin along until he got all the pay, but hadnt dug nary foot in the growin. So I made out my akkount, and sued him as follers to-wit:

Old John Hanks to Bill Arp, Dn.

To I well you didnt dig: $20.

Well, Hanks he hired a cheap lawyer, who rard round extensively, and sed a heap of funny things at my expense, and finally dismissed my case for what he called its "ridikulus absurdum." I paid those costs, and went home a sadder and a wiser man. I pulled down my little cabin, and moved it some 300 yards higher to the spring, and I've drunk nity little well water since. I look upon this case as a warnin to all folks never to pay for any thing till you've got it, especially if it has to be dug.

The next law case I had I gained it all by myself by the force of sirkumstances. I bought a man's note that was given for the hire of a bigger boy, Dick. Findin he wouldnt pay me, I sued him before old Squire McGinnis, belevin it was sich a ded thing that the devil couldnt keep me out of a verdict. The fellers attorney pled failure of consideration, and non est faktum & ignis faktus, and infaney, that the nigger's name wasent Dick but Richard. The old squire was a powerful secessh, and hated the Yankees amazin. So, after the lawyer had got through his speech and finished up his readin from a book called "Greenleaf," I rose forward to an attitud. Stretchin forth my arm, ses I Squire "McGinnis, I would ask, sur, if this is a time in the history of our afflied country when Federal law books should be admitted in a Southern patriot's court? Havent we succeeded forever from their foul domination? Dont our flag wave over Fort Sumter, and what, sur, have we got to do with Northern laws? On the very first page of the gentlemen's book I seed the name of the city of Bosting. Yis, sur, it was written in Bosting, published in Bosting and sold in Bosting, where they dont know no more about the hire of a nigger than an ox knows the man who will tan his hide." I sed some more things that was panted and patriotik, and closed my argument by handin the book to the squire. He put on his spectacles, and after lookin at the book about a minuet, ses he.

"Mr. Arp, you can have a judgement and I hope that from henceforth and forever, no lawyer will presume to come before this honorable court with pison dokuments to prove his case. If he do, this court will take it as an insult, and send him to jail."

I look upon this case as a warnin to all folks who gamble in law, to hold a good hand and play it well. High justice and patriotism are winin trumps.

After this I had a difficulty with a map by the name of Kohen, and I thought I wouldnt go to law, but would arbytrate. I had bought Tom Swillins wheat at a dollar a bushel if he couldnt do better, and if he could do better was to cum back and give me the preference. The skamp went off and sold the wheat to Kohen for a dollar and five cents, and Kohen knowd all about his contract with me. Me and him like to have fit, and perhaps would if I hadent been pany; but we finally left it all to Josh Billins to arbytrate. Old Josh deliberated on the thing three days and nights, and finally brok in an award that Kohen should have the wheat, and I should have the preference. I haint submitted no more cases to arbitration since, and my advice to all peepal is to arbytrate nuthin if your case is honest, for there ain't no judge there to keep one man from strikin the other. An honest man dont stand no chance nowhere exsep in a court house with a good lawyer to back him. The motto of this case is, never to arbitrate nuthin but a bad case, and take a good lawyer's advice and pay him for it before you do thus.

But I got Fretman—I didnt but my lawyer Marks did. Fretman was a nutmeg skoolteacher who had gone round my naborhood with his skool articles and I put down for Troup and Cal speech of Hon. Thomas B. Cooper, Speaker of the House of Representatives, upon the adoption of an amendment to the Senate to the House Bill to change the name of a new County from Wetumpka to Elmore. Delivered in the General Assembly of the State of Alabama, on the 14th of Feb., 1866.

Mr. SPEAKER: I ask the indulgence of the House, that I may pay a feeble, but just tribute of respect to the memory of departed worth.

When this bill was under discussion in this House, the difficulties growing out of integration, constitutional requirements as to territory and population, produced slight sensation for the moment. These being adjusted, a county beautiful in form and symmetry, being complete in all its requirements, but in name, was presented at the Baptismal font for consecration. During the administration of the Sacramental services, pleasing sensations were imparted when the venerable God-father, for the occasion, announced that the name of Wetumpka, had been selected for that consecration. This is a traditional name, the name of a child of the forest, consecrated in the legends of the Redmans by gone pride and glory. I am fond of Indian names—I delight in the legends of the Red man.

They are the romance of superstition mingled with realities—rich in pathos—replete with incident.

Incident which, when associated with a place, gives immortality to its name, and the incident is, thereby, itself, perpetuated by the mention of the name. For example, the name of York town revives the recollection of the surrender of Cornwallis. Hence my fondness for the name of Wetumpka; a name associated, by tradition, with incidents the most thrilling—witness deeds of daring and of love; with heroic constancy and unflinching valor, handed down through the vista of the long-forgotten past.

Incident repeats with all that renders woman lovely, as Heaven's richest gift to man; and with acts of manly bearing such as nature noblesse, on y, can perform.

In contrast with which, the modern heroine and the white man's civility divide in proportion as, the cascade of the mountain streamlet suffers by comparison with the mighty Falls of the Coosa, which perpetuate a woman's name who, associated with one of nature's wildest freaks, is handed down through the tradition of ages as a Princess, the idol of a once powerful and warlike tribe; the recollection of which, is perpetuated by a legend in which such exultation, associating tragedy with a name, to romance with reality, transmits the name of WETUMPKA as its Divinity.

This occasion, if my memory was more faithful, forbids a more extended notice of a legendary history, on which, Longfellow would delight to muse.

Aside from that admiration which I have for Indian names and wild romances, other incidents, marked by personal associations, have endeared the name of the place, in which I have spent pleasant days and social hours—a place where sleep those who were dear to me whose memories twine about the heart and render sacred their ashes.

Thus constituted, and thus impressed, no ordinary considerations could induce me to surrender my fondness for this name.

The higher considerations of gratitude to the benefactors of my own race; the claims which patriotism asserts to our appreciation of past public services; the duty, resting on us, to perpetuate the history of the heroic worth, and moral grandeur and of a character which does not require the fancy sketch of fiction; nor the studied efforts of rhetoric to render it tasteful and acceptable to a people, who love liberty, and the rights of man, demand, that considerations of fancy, and of feeling should yield, to the more noble sentiments of duty and should induce us, to accept of the proposed change, of the name of WETUMPKA, for that of ELMORE, in commemoration of that sterling old patriot, Gen John Elmore, deceased.

Gen. John Elmore, was a native of Virginia. In early life he emigrated to South Carolina; where he lived for many years, holding offices of honor, and of trust.

A boy of 10, he volunteered; a raw recruit in the war of the first Revolution, and by deeds of noble daring, contributed his full share, in making that history, which records the gallantry of Southern heroes.

When the clarion notes of the war of 1812 were sounded, the latent spark of youthful valor rekindled in the bosom of the patriot of fifty, with the alacrity of younger days the accompaniments of war were resumed, and he in alignment with the bravos of the land in defence of liberty, and of right.

Our second independence achieved and peace restored, he retires to the private walks, enjoying the confidence and esteem of all.

In 1818 he came to Alabama, and made his home within the boundaries of this new county, then a wilderness, the haunt of the wild deer and the hunting ground of the Indian. It was there he lived, it was there he died, and there his bones were buried. And the requiem of his resting place, is the cadence of that wailing whose divinity, is the principles of the Red man's tradition.

He was a man of robust stature, of strong mind, of great personal courage; determined in his purpose, firm in his resolves; generous of heart, true to his friends; constant in his attachment; honest in his dealings, and kind to his neighbors; he loved his country; was endeared to all, revered by all. He lived to a ripe old age, and dying left a legacy to his children, far more precious than rubies; yes; than fine gold—an unblemished reputation.

He left a progeny, such as none but good men ever leave. A progeny, endowed with more of the noble attributes of head and heart, than rarely falls to the lot of one man.

He was, not only, blessed in basket and in store but, more fortunate than Israel's mightiest King, he was, not only blessed with one, but with many sons, upon whom the mantle could descend, yea, and with daughters too; who were not only, as jewels, in his coronet of fame, but as ornaments of the society, in which they move, and whom, their country, is, justly proud to honor.

His sons, as jurists, as statesmen and as citizens, have and do fill high positions, of honor and of trust. His daughters are recognized, as matrons, worthy of emulation.

Among his first born, was the gifted and gallant Benjamin Elmore, a youthful Captain of 16 who led a gallant band of youthful heroes, in the war of '12. Achieved renown, as Col. of a Regiment in the war of '36, a man of high legal attainments, he filled high offices of honor and of trust in South Carolina; the land of his birth. He sleeps with the honored dead.

The next is, that other, and highly distinguished and gifted son, the amiable Frank R. Elmore, beloved by every Carolinian. He was an able jurist, an honest statesman. He was the popular successor of Carolina's greatest statesman Calhoun the composer of Webster and of Clay—the unrivalled trio of Statesmen.

Our distinguished and respected fellow citizen, John A. Elmore, is also a son worthy of his sire; as a jurist, he is an ornament to the profession; as a citizen, an honor to his State; as a friend, he is loved, as but few are ever loved; noble, generous and kind, he loves his friends, and has no enemies to hate.

William Elmore, the late Attorney General of the State of Louisiana, an able lawyer, and a man of high character; is another son.

Henry Elmore, another son equally endowed by nature, a ripe scholar, an able jurist, sustains the reputation of the family, as Judge of one of the Superior courts of Texas.

The late Hon. Rush Elmore is another of the gifted sons of a noble sire. He was known by many of us, and beloved by all to whom he was known—generous, kind and talented; open courteous and frank. His friends regret at his promotion to the office of Judge of the district court of Kansas territory, and mourned his death.

Albert Elmore, our present Secretary of State, youngest of the brothers, at him and his character, owing to our official connection with him, it would be indelicate to speak, save he has no stain upon his escutcheon.

Here Mr. SPEAKER, I might let the curtain fall satisfied panoramic exhibition of a good man's claim to the gratitude of his countrymen entitle him to a place in the history of the State of his adoption. Like the mother of the Gracchi, when asked for her jewels, she could have justly pointed to his sons. More blessed than she he had other jewels, to which with equal pride and pleasure, he could refer. Jewels more delicate, yet more precious and of softer lustre. But the picture is not complete, unless draped with that emblem of woman, which female worth imparts, by association with the sterner sex. Man may dazzle with all the gorgeous splendor of a mid-day sun, and excite the admiration of listening crowds, it is left for lovely women to exercise the gentle influence of the vespere breeze which cools the fevered brain, allays the excited nerve, and by the wooing of her gentle ways, to lend his stern resolves, and with a placid art, which none but woman ever knows, can reduce the savage to the christian man. Woman is a jewel whose light as soft as the moonbeam upon a placid sea, dazzles in proportion as her example attracts the admiration of the virtuous and the good.

When thus attracted the light of her example diffuses itself to all surrounding objects, imparts halo of glory to all within the region of its influence. Thus it may be said of the venerable widow of the lamented Dixon H. Lewis, Alabama's gifted Senator, She was the daughter of Gen. Elmore. Equal justice demands that honorable mention should be made of that other daughter and most excellent woman, the first Mrs. Benj. Fitzpatrick, wife of our late most popular Governor of Alabama, and he too, a U. S. Senator. There are other children who, although unknown to fame, in the private walks, reflect the virtues and possess the intellect so peculiar to others named. Here is presented a rare and most valuable collection of moral worth and public virtue, of genial souls and social worth; legitimate inducements to perpetuate the name of ELMORE, as Alabama's property, and to demand the adoption of the amendments of the Senate to the bill.

New York, Feb. 19.—The World's special says Gen. Lee was quite reckless before the Reconstruction Committee. He did not volunteer remarks beyond proper answers to questions. He said the South had accepted the result of the war in good faith, and when he was pressed by questions he intimated that the feeling for the Union was much stronger just after the close of the war than now, and that there appeared some impatience among the people who had been identified with the war in the South that they should be prevented from representing their States in Congress. He declared there was a disposition to treat the freedmen kindly, and expressed a decided hope that the Government might endorse the former. He regarded President Johnson and General Grant's course towards the South liberal and humane.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—It is known that on Saturday Gen. Grant refused to revoke the order suppressing the Richmond Examiner, expressing himself in decided terms against the publication of a certain class of articles in Southern papers, calculated to do irreparable mischief. On Tuesday, however, Mr. Pollard was officially informed by an officer of Gen. Grant's staff that the order would be revoked, provided the course of that paper would be milder in the future and less liable to objection.

Gen. Grant will, however, take care no newspapers shall be published containing statements of disloyalty and hostility to the Government in any of its branches. The persistent publication of articles calculated to keep up a feeling of hostility between the different sections of the country will be no longer tolerated. The circular to this effect, dated Saturday, is addressed to Department commanders, who are required to give such information with a view to the suppression of papers of bad character. There is no distinction with as to North or South.

From Washington. The following telegrams have been received.

REMOVAL. Good authority asserts that the President will in a few days issue a peace proclamation. There is no doubt that Secretary Stanton's resignation is in the hands of the President.

THE POLITICAL EXCITEMENT. The Commercial's Washington special says: The political excitement shows no abatement, but juster and calmer views of affairs prevail.

POETRY.

Has Thou a Talent?

BY J. G. MORSE WEST.
Has thou a talent? Improve it,
Guard it with jealous care—
Never hide that precious gift,
Or drop in dark despair.
But use, arouse, prove to the world,
That by rich talent given,
Thou mayst not here reap thy reward,
But it will bloom in heaven.

Has thou a failing? despise it—
Pluck from thy heart the weed
That chokes the good which there would flow
And bloom a plant indeed.
Cast all aside that would degrade,
Ne'er let it grow with thee,
But be thou circumspect in life,
As all men ought to be.

Has thou a virtue? foster it,
With others let it grow,
And walk the path of honesty,
As all men ought to do.
It may be hard and painful too,
But do not look behind—
Live thou on earth a goodly life,
And die in peace of mind.

QUEER QUESTIONS.—Which is the strongest day in the week? Sunday, because all the rest are week-days.
Which travels at a greater speed, heat or cold? Heat because you can catch cold.

When has a man four hands? When he doubts his fists.
What is that which works when it plays, and plays when it works? A fountain.

Why is a baker like a beggar? He kneads bread.
What stands and goes without legs?
A clock.

What belongs to yourself, and is used by every one more than yourself?
Your name.
What thing is that which the more we cut the longer it grows? A ditch.

Why is a feeble old man like a nail driven up to the head? He is in-firm.

By keeping steadily drunk for one year in Missouri, you can be divorced without fail.—Isn't that a premium on drunkenness?

Why is praising children like opium?
Because it is laudanum—leading 'em.

Why is an egg like a colt? Because it has to be broke before it is used.

What is the difference between a schoolmaster and a railroad conductor?
One trains the mind and the other winds the train.

What is the difference between an accepted and a rejected lover? One kisses his miss and the other misses his kiss.

A man that can be flattered is not necessarily a fool, but you can always make one of him.

The gentleman who was overtaken by a train of reflection was so completely carried away that he has not yet got back.

A fellow that doesn't benefit the world by his life does it by his death.

When a Baltimore lady is kissed she says she feels as though she was taking chloroform, and remains insensible as long as the operation lasts.

Every plain girl has one consolation;
though not a pretty young lady, she will, if she lives, be a pretty old one.

GREAT MEETING IN WARREN COUNTY, ILLINOIS—AN ATTITUDE BETWEEN COTTON AND CORN PROPOSED.

In the Columbus (Ohio) Crisis of the 17th inst, is a report of the proceeding of a large meeting of the citizens of Warren county, Illinois, which "all papers friendly to the commercial and agricultural interests of the country" are requested to copy. The meeting was addressed by Hon. Henry Clay Dean, of Iowa, formerly chaplain to the United States Senate. Great enthusiasm and unanimity of feeling characterized the assemblage. We have not room for the full report, but give the following as specimen resolutions:

Resolved, That we, the people of Warren county, Ill., without distinction of party, pledge ourselves to unite with our fellow-citizens of the Mississippi Valley and all of the agricultural districts of the United States to resist by all legal and legitimate means the invasion of our rights, and will vote for no man for any office whatever who has deserted the interest of agriculture, either through imbecility or corruption, at the behests, of the moneyed aristocracy of the country, nor for any man holding untaxed bonds, whose interest it is to enslave labor to capital, to place the West and South in vassalage to the East, to tax bondmen for the exclusive benefit of bondholders.

Resolved, That in the Union all of the States are equal, entitled to equal representation, with equal rights; that the Government of the United States has recognized the power of the States lately in rebellion to assist in the amendment of the Constitution of the United States, which they could not do but in their independent character as States.

Resolved, That the interests of agriculture are identical in every part of the country; that the corn field and the cotton field contribute to the support of each other and any attempt to rob the one of representation is a blow at the other,
from which there can be no recovery but in union of interests and action for self preservation.

GOLD FOUND IN ROME.—We have seen a specimen of quartz rock, stained with the oxide of iron, that contains a large amount of gold. This is said by gold miners to be one of the richest specimens of gold bearing quartz they have ever seen. This was found in the neighborhood of the Foundry, and is supposed to have been dug up while sinking a well a few years since.

This is not the only gold that has been found in that vicinity. While Cunningham & Co. were digging a well at their Flouring Mill a few years since, a vein of gold bearing quartz was struck and a negro saved several penny weights of the precious metal, but he failed to attract the attention of parties able to make a full examination and search. A thorough test will now probably soon be made. If there is an abundant like the specimen before us, a thousand dollars to the hand, per day, would not be an unreasonable yield.
Courier.

The propositions of the Revenue Commission may be briefly summed up
as follows:

1. An exemption of all incomes below
$1000 from the Income Tax.
2. A reduction of the tax on distilled liquors from $2 to $1 per gallon.
3. A remission of all taxes now levied on wearing apparel.
4. A remission of all taxes now levied on pig iron. (2.40 per ton.) coal. (six cents per ton.) and crude petroleum ($1

5. A repeal of all taxes now levied on books, magazines and pamphlets; leaving the present taxes on paper, leather,
etc. untouched.
6. A reduction by one-half of the duties now levied on home manufactures generally.
7. A repeal of all taxes now levied on repairs of engines, cars, carriages, ships, etc.
8. A repeal of all taxes embodied in schedule A. of the Internal Revenue Act of last season, except those on billiard tables.
9. A reduction of tax now levied on broker's sales of stocks $5 per $1000 to $1 per $1000.

ton from 2 to 5 cents per pound.

R. Railroad.—We publish in Selma Messenger, the leaders, of a recent address, by Directors of this road, setting general terms, the present prospects of the company, a proposition for the interest due and unpaid.

ments it will be seen that the company is much better, the enormous losses sustained and the public enemy, than feared or hoped for. It is earned the liberal and preciseable aid for liquidation of the interest, be accepted—that measures by the President and Directors of the road, so ten or Rome, or both, identify anticipate that pay will soon be at par, could be generously and liberally the immense number of rests, both in stock and really involved.

On Wednesday last, while engaged in the mountains, was a piece of falling severely injured. Mr. H. is a member of the Baptist church, and is at 35 years of age, and is a native of Alabama.

Dalton and Jacksonville Railroad.

We are glad to see Mr. Geo. Wadsworth, former Chief Engineer of the Dalton and Jacksonville Railroad, among us again. He is just from the East, en route to Selma, on business of the road, and expects to see the construction of our work commenced before long. He will revise the location at once, beginning at Rome, and be ready for contractors in the course of four or six weeks.

Mr. W. on his way had communication with officers of all the roads from Washington to Dalton, and found them extremely anxious to have this gap of 100 miles closed up.

When this road is completed and the work from Selma to Pollard, the distance from New York to Mobile and Pensacola will be reduced to about 1230 miles, all rail route at that.

[From the Selma Daily Messenger.]

The Alabama and Tennessee Rivers Railroad.

We have before us an address, made by the President and Board of Directors of the Alabama & Tennessee Rivers Railroad company to the bond-holders of that company, setting forth, in brief and general terms, the present condition and future prospects of the company, so far as calculated to interest the creditors and stockholders, and submitting, in connection with it, a proposition for the liquidation of the interest due and unpaid on the bonds.

This address contains some valuable information which the stockholders and creditors would be pleased to see. We will in brief terms lay before our readers the leading facts and features of this address.

It shows the road is finished 135 miles, and in operation to Blue Mountain. It shows that 15 miles North of Blue Mountain, in the direction of Rome and Dalton, are graded and ready for the superstructure, and that the heaviest work between Jacksonville and Gadsden is performed, and on another road, in extension of the Alabama & Tennessee Rivers Railroad, the entire grading from Gadsden to Gunter's Landing is finished, 38 miles. It shows the entire costs of the road with equipments, exclusive of interest, to have been $2,422,192.35.

The capital stock of the company paid in is $1,149,180.81. In 1852 the company sold $500,000 of its first mortgage bonds; and after the road was finished 100 miles, the company sold $338,000 of the same bond due and payable in 1872, making in all of the first mortgage bonds $838,000.

At different times the company has sold of its second mortgage bonds a fraction under $300,000 which fell due 1st July, 1864. A portion has been paid and leaves now out-standing and unpaid of the second mortgage bonds $225,000.

The floating debt of the company is about $154,000, thus showing that the entire debt of the company for first and second mortgage bonds and floating debt amounts to $1,217,000.

To this should be added interest not included in the above statement. Also the cost of eight locomotives, sixty freight cars, and a large bill for railroad supplies recently purchased by the President on two years time, payable in monthly installments, the sum total being $184,181.32.

In addition to the road and appurtenances, the company own about 375,000 acres of land on and in the vicinity of the road, donated by the Congress of the United States in the year 1856. A large portion of these lands are in the mineral region near which the road lies. The grant embraces thousands of acres of what is regarded as the most valuable portion of the coal fields and iron mines of the State.

The superior quality of the coal, the thickness and position of the veins, its accessibility and proximity to market, being a portion of the coal fields nearest to the Gulf, render these lands very valuable. The grant also embraces large quantities of iron ore and other minerals and large tracts of valuable timbered lands. These lands at an average of $1 per acre, would amount to $1,500,000, or more than the entire debt of the company.

The stockholders and creditors of this company will doubtless be highly gratified when they read the address of the Board of Directors made by the President, to learn that for the fiscal year, ending June 1st 1864, and for the next ten months, up to April 1st, 1865, when Selma fell, that the gross earnings of the road for one year and ten months amounted to the sum of $2,845,297 in Confederate money.

The expenses for operating the road, including the purchase and repairs of locomotives and cars, &c., amount to $1,506,081, which leaves the net earnings of the road $1,339,216 for one year and ten months. These figures show promising results for a road of 135 miles without through connections and operating under many disadvantages, with greatly inadequate machinery.

But the results of this business were much more than lost to the company by the sudden fall of the Confederate States, whose Government was indebted to this company a small fraction under one million of dollars, which was a total loss; and by the destruction of the invading force, under the command of Gen. Wilson. This was followed by the loss of all the important bridges on the road but one, the greater portion of trestle works, the depots, platforms, machine shops and machinery, forwarding warehouses, offices, seven locomotives and the largest portion of the freight cars & other valuable property. These losses were very heavy and left the company in a greatly embarrassed condition, without a dollar of available means.

The report shows the bridges have been replaced, road repaired and in operation, part of the depots rebuilt, and other buildings in process of construction. The gross earnings of the road, with its inadequate rolling stock, since its destruction to the first of January, 1865, amounts to $201,856.65, which earnings have been expended in operating the road, making repairs, purchasing tools, machinery, and paying debts, &c.

The report shows the future prospects of the road and its contemplated extension and connections, which should be read by every one interested. This address and report can be had by calling at the office of the company, copies having been sent out to many of the stockholders and bond-holders.

And in conclusion, the Board of Directors, propose to the bond-holders to fund their interest debt, by giving them income-bonds for the interest due and to become due in July next, bearing the same rate of interest as the principal bonds, and to devote the entire net earnings of the road, from and after a period to be agreed on, to the payment of these bonds and interest thereon, these income-bonds to be held as collateral for the payment of the coupons, and to be placed in the hands of a trustee to be agreed upon, for the benefit of the bond-holders, the coupons to be surrendered and canceled as the bond set apart for them shall be paid.

PARTY TIES.—The New York Journal of Commerce trusts that party ties will prove weak when men come to consider the simple question now before them.

"Shall we sustain the Union and the President, or sustain the enemies of the Union and crush the President? The issue is made up, and must soon be decided."

Its advice is also practical, timely, and true when it says:

"If the Radicals in Congress conquer Mr. Johnson, there is no chance for peace or prosperity in America during the present generation; and the Northern Radicals are willing to sell their principle to day for the sake of acquiring office and spoils, and the ability to manage Northern states in the interest of disunion. For here is the fundamental point, brought forward by Mr. Johnson with startling force, that these Northern extremists are enemies of the country. They put on every species of disguise. They go to the people of the Northern States, representing themselves as the friends of the president and his policy, and having obtained power they set themselves in the way of the Government, and if they are not made to 'get out of it' the Government wheels must stop."

The conservative Republicans have it now in their power to save the nation. On them rests the responsibility.

Mr. Johnson emphatically belongs to them. They are his party. He is not the man of the Democratic party, and the Democrats have no right to claim him. They will support his reconstruction policy, heart and soul, and therefore the conservative Republicans may look to them as a power to be used for the accomplishment of Mr. Johnson's wishes.

SEVENTH.—The New York World of the 20th inst. says:

Among the signs of the times may be noticed the fact that Henry Ward Beecher endorsed the President's policy including the Freedmen's Bureau bill. He stated in his address, in Brooklyn last night, that for thirty years he had agitated for the destruction of slavery, but that having been accomplished, he was now for the complete restoration of the Union. It is manifest that if men like Beecher leave the Republican party, Stevens will not have a very large guard at his back in the House of Representatives which succeeds the present one.

The Union Telegraph publishes an order from the Secretary of the Treasury, discontinuing all Treasury Agencies in the Southern States ordering the agents to suspend all proceedings with regard to cotton, and report all matters in their hands to the Department forthwith. This will be good news to our people generally, and especially to that large class who have suffered and are still suffering under the action of the Treasury agents, most of whom we presume, have conformed strictly to their instructions. There are no such agencies in existence now, and the public will bear it in mind.

An order from Captain Wharton discontinuing his at this place, and releasing all cotton held by him or his sub-agents under embargo, will be found in this issue.—Atlanta Intell.

The loss by the ice gorges at St. Louis, as figured up by the newspapers, reaches the enormous sum of nine hundred and sixty thousand two hundred dollars. It is further estimated that the damage to business during the blockade will swell the amount to several million dollars.

INTERESTING FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The Committee on Reconstruction reported to joint resolution to the House to admit Tennessee into the Union on certain conditions to be ratified by the people. Among them are: no part of the Confederate debt to be paid, and all persons who engaged in the rebellion are not to vote or be eligible to office for a certain period. This is the Republican programme to be applied to all the Southern States.

The House, by a vote of thirty-seven against one hundred, refused to receive a communication from the Governor of North Carolina enclosing a resolution of the Legislature signifying their acceptance of lands for agricultural College purposes. The vote was taken after the declaration of Mr. Stevens that the House did not recognize North Carolina as a State in the Union.

Desirable Lands for Sale.
Farm of 800 acres in Calhoun County, Alabama within 6 miles of Jacksonville the county seat, 1 mile of the town of Alexandria, and 7 miles of Blue Mountain Station on the Jacksonville and Selma Railroad. Three hundred acres open the remainder very heavily timbered with pine and oak. One lot, 160 acres is detached 1/2 mile from the main body. Improvements a large framed dwelling with 8 good sized rooms well finished, located in a beautiful oak grove—all necessary out buildings. There is a large never failing spring within 100 yards of the house with a branch flowing from it nearly large enough to turn a mill—also a well of fine water in the yard—it has also a large gin house—a large apple and peach orchard, and taken altogether is one of the most valuable and desirable farms in North Alabama.

ALSO A Farm of 870 acres more or less in Calhoun County, Ala., within 8 miles of Jacksonville, 1 mile of Alexandria and 7 miles of Blue Mountain Station on the Jacksonville & Selma Railroad—350 acres cleared the balance in original forest heavily timbered. This farm is very finely watered by spring branches which head on the place—80 acres of the open land is cedar bottom of very superior quality producing a good season 50 bushels of corn per acre and 1 bale of cotton. Improvements—a large well finished frame house and all necessary out buildings in a good state of preservation. There is a Baptist church on the land—and the society in the neighborhood equal to any in the State. This farm in the hands of a good practical farmer could be made one of the most productive in the region in which it is located. It has on it 14 miles of cedar fencing taken off the cedar bottom. Lime stone is very abundant on the place which could be converted into lime at very little cost either for market or for fertilizing purposes on the farm.

Notes of a Northern Trip.

The Editor of the Richmond Examiner having just returned from a Northern trip, gives the following account of what he said and heard and learned:

MEN AND POLITICS IN THE NORTHERN CITIES—NOTES OF A FLYING TRIP.

A recent visit to the North has afforded us the opportunity to get some interesting glimpses of the current of public sentiment in the great cities. Our party lines are nearly obliterated, and we found the whole people separating rapidly into great parties—the radicals and conservatives.

The former are straining every nerve, not only to keep the South in its present anomalous condition, but to bring it to utter political and social ruin; while the latter, under the leadership of President Johnson, who has just placed himself so unmistakably at their head, favor a policy of conciliation and peace, in order, at the earliest possible day to restore the Union to its former prosperity and integrity.

PUBLIC FEELING IN WASHINGTON.
In Washington, the radical element largely predominates around the Capitol, and amongst the members and hangers on of Congress, but amongst the mass of the resident population, conservative views are overwhelmingly in the ascendant. Since the bold stand taken by the President in favor of restoration and against the radicals, the friends of the Union are much encouraged, and their influence and numbers are visibly increasing.

is, in general strongly conservative. The old National Intelligencer, which is doing yeoman's service in the cause of restoration, and is supported by the star and Constitutional Union—the latter paper edited by the bold, consistent and lion-hearted Florence. The National Republican, a sprightly evening sheet, whose conductors have hitherto been identified with the radical movement, asserted its independence in sustaining the President's recent veto. The only Washington paper that endorses the ultra radicals, and systematically vilifies the President, is the Chronicle, edited by

THE INFAMOUS JOHN W. FORNEY.

This personal and political knave and trickster will be remembered as the individual who some years ago, rendered himself notorious during the presidency of the celebrated Forest. Divorce case; as the originator of a plan to render a witness drunk, and in that state to obtain from him evidence intended to ruin the character of an innocent woman!

The letter of Forney which proved beyond all question his guilt in this matter, will doubtless be recollected by many of our readers. It is eminently characteristic of the man, who, having fattened through a long series of years at the public crib, is filled with rage and disappointment because his thirst for place and power is not more fully slaked and now assumes to bound on the foes and revilers of the President.

A MARKED CHANGE.
which any former resident of Washington, now returning to that city will be sure to notice, is the vast increase of the negro population. For this pleasant addition to their community, the people of Washington are indebted to various circumstances, but chiefly to the hope held out by Congress of the establishment of negro suffrage in the District of Columbia, which would at once make that happy ten miles square the Mecca of the whole race of regenerated blacks. As it is, they crowd the thoroughfares, the street cars, the corridors and rotunda of the Capitol, the galleries of Congress in fact their number in Washington alone exceeds twenty-five thousand!

THINGS IN BALTIMORE.
Passing on to Baltimore we found the conservative feeling in that city very general; yet so fettered is the popular voice throughout Maryland that, to a casual observer, the radicals, who, though comparatively few in number are far more bitter than further Northward, seem to possess considerable strength and influence. The Baltimore papers are all, more or less conservative with the exception of the American, which, though its editor, Fulton, has just been appointed collector of the port is much inclined to side with what it considers the winning party—the radicals.

PHILADELPHIA
may be said to be committed, body and soul to the control of Thad. Stevens' faction. There one finds more bitterness against the South and everything Southern than any of the Northern cities—the "Hub" itself hardly accepted.

The newspapers are very much of the same political complexion—only one of them, the Age, offering the least resistance to the tide of popular fanaticism and hate.

IN NEW YORK.

A very different state of affairs exists. This great city is the stronghold of Northern conservatism. Although its cosmopolitan population includes fanatics of all grades, yet the controlling element amongst the people, as well as the mass of the people themselves, are eager for the restoration of the Union as it was. The moneyed classes—the "solid men" of New York—are almost without exception more or less well disposed towards the President's policy of conciliation and peace. Many of them do not hesitate to declare that their confidence in Government securities and their consequent disposition to invest decreases in exact proportion with the growth of the radical power in the councils of the nation. One happy feature New York life is the unbounded that undoubtedly prevails. One can find in the New York press all shades of political sentiment faithfully reflected, and there are circles in which the sentiment is as exclusively Southern as anywhere south of Mason and Dixon's line.

Several of the leading New York Republican presses—such as the Times, the Sun, the Commercial—sustain the President's veto, and it is gratifying to observe that, in the re-organization of parties which must inevitably follow the recent rupture between the President and the Radicals, a large proportion of the Republican party are likely to act with the conservatives in the effort to save the country. One of the most interesting incidents of our trip was

A CHANCE INTERVIEW WITH HENRY WARD BEECHER.

We encountered that reverend politician on a railroad train, in which he was on his way to Newburgh, N. Y., there to deliver a lecture.—A change seems to have come over the spirit of his dream. In conversation with us he avowed himself an uncompromising peace man. Blood enough, he thought, had now been spilt, and he was for mercy, forgiveness and forbearance. He admitted that his former violent views had become modified, and he now cordially endorses the Union policy of the President. He alluded to the case of Mr. Davis, and expressed the hope that he would be tried, if at all, by a civil tribunal, and if convicted, pardoned. He contended that the power of Mr. Davis for mischief was forever gone, and that no good could result from his execution. We were somewhat surprised to hear such sentiments from such a source; but the conversation and general bearing of the great political preacher impressed us favorably.

DESTITUTE IN NORTH ALABAMA.
The Huntsville (Ala.) Independent of the 24th ult. says:

"Returns from Marshall county for rations for distribution, show that there are nineteen hundred and fifty whites, and two hundred and twenty blacks in that county who are entirely destitute. The apportionment for that county is not near large enough to meet this demand, the number of rations allowed per day being only 428. This is an appalling case of destitution, and without speedy relief is furnished, starvation must come to hundreds. The Government has contributed generously of its bounty but the supplies furnished are not adequate to the demand, and the people of the State must do something for these unfortunate sufferers. We doubt not that many of them belong to families of deceased soldiers, and surely we cannot see the widows and orphans of our glorious dead want for the necessities of life."

KENTUCKY.—The rebel army tried repeatedly to take Kentucky during the war, but failed. Since the war stopped they have tried again, and succeeded.—Twenty thousand paroled prisoners from Lee's, Johnson's and Hood's armies are now the arbiters of the State which has become more heartily rebel than South Carolina. Thus elections were recently held in the districts nearest Cincinnati for Senators, and the candidates supported by the rebels succeeded in each. The Union vote was large as ever before; but the Copperhead swelled by the returned rebel, overbalanced it. South Carolina has ratified the constitutional amendment; Kentucky repeatedly and contemptuously rejects it. The State will never again give so heavy a pro-slavery majority as she gave McClellan; but she will probably give twenty thousand majority next year, and consign her negroes to virtual slavery by acts of her next Legislature. She has not been whipped; South Carolina has, and by so much the better for it. Kentucky badly needs reconstruction.

POETRY.

MY FRIEND.

Written by Col. W. S. Hawkins, C. S. A. (prisoner of war at Camp Chase), a friend of a fellow prisoner who was engaged to be married to a Southern lady. She proved faithless to him. The letter arrived soon after his death and was answered by Colonel H. in the following lines:

Your letter came, but came too late,
For heaven had claimed its own;
Ah, sudden change! from prison bars,
Unto the Great White Throne.
And yet, I think he would have stayed
For one more day of pain,
Could he have read these tardy words
Which you have sent in vain.

Why did you wait, fair lady,
Through so many a weary hour?
Had you other lovers with you,
In that stilled daisy bower?
Did others bow before your charms,
And twine bright garlands there?
And yet I ween in all the throng
His spirit had no peer.

I wish that you were by me now
As I draw the sheet aside,
To see how pure the look he wore
While before he died.
Yet the sorrow that you gave him
Still has left its memory trace,
And a meek and salutary sadness
Dwells upon that pallid face.

"Her love," said he, "could change for me
The winter's cold to Spring;"
Ah! trust of thoughtless maiden's love,
Thou art a bitter thing!
For when the valleys fair, in May,
Once more with blooms shall wave,
The Northern vernal shall blow
Upon his humble grave.

Your dose of scanty words had been
But one more pang to bear;
Though to the last, he kissed with love
This tress of your soft hair.
I did not put it where he said,
For when the angels come
I would not have them find the sign
Of falsehood in his tomb.

I've read your letter, and I know
The wiles that you have wrought
To win that noble heart of his,
And gain its fearful thought!
What lavish wealth men sometimes give
For a trifle light and small;
What mainly forms are often held
In folly's flimsy thrall.

You shall not pity him, for now
He's past your hope and fear,
Although I wish that you could stand
With me beside his bier.
Still I forgive you, Heaven knows,
For mercy you'll have need,
Since God his awful judgment sends
On each unworthy deed.

To-night the cold wind whistles by,
As I my vigils keep Within the prison dead house, where Few mourners come to weep.
A rude plank coffin holds him now,
Yet death gives always grace;
And I had rather see him thus
Than clasped in your embrace.

To-night your rooms are very gay,
With wit, and wine, and song;
And you are smiling just as if
You never did a wrong.
Your hand, so fair, that none would think
It penned these words of pain;
Your skin, so white—would to God your soul
Were half so free of stain.

I'd rather be this dear, dear friend,
Than you in all your glee;
For you are held in grievous bonds,
While he's forever free.
Whom serve we in this life, we serve
In that which is to come,
He chose his way, you, yours; let God
Pronounce the fitting doom!

We used to smile at Sydney Smith's humorous account of English taxes, never dreaming that such would, at some time be our own experience. Since "misery loves company," we reproduce it for the consolation of our tax-payers:
"Taxes were piled on taxes, until they reached every article which enters into the month, or covers the back, or is placed under foot, taxes upon everything which it is pleasant to see, hear, feel, smell or taste; taxes upon warmth, light and locomotion, taxes upon everything on earth; on everything that comes from abroad or is grown at home; taxes on the raw material; taxes on fresh value that is added to it by the industry of man; taxes on the source which pampers man's appetite, and the drug which restores him to health; on the ermine which decorates the judge, and rope which hangs the criminal; on the poor man's salt and the rich man's specie; on the brass nails of the coffin, and the ribbon of the bride. At bed or board, couchant or levant, we must pay."
"The school-boy whips his taxed top; the headless youth manages his taxed horse with a taxed bridle on a taxed road; and the dying Englishman, pouring his medicine which has paid seven per cent, into a spoon that has paid fifteen per cent, flings himself back upon the chintz bed which has paid twenty-two per cent, makes his will on an eight pound stamp, and expires in the arms of an apothecary, who has paid a license of a hundred pounds for the privilege of putting him to death. His whole property then is immediately taxed from two to ten per cent. Besides the probate large fees are demanded for burying him in the chancel; his virtues are handed down to posterity on taxed marble; and he is then gathered to his fathers to be taxed no more."

The sober second thought is said to be working upon many of the radicals in Congress. Letters are pouring in upon them, warning them that they will be unhorsed in the issue with the President. A good many are going home to rest and reflect, and all are sorely troubled and wear long faces.

Desirable Lands for Sale.
Farm of 800 acres in Calhoun County, Alabama within 6 miles of Jacksonville the county seat, 1 mile of the town of Alexandria, and 7 miles of Blue Mountain Station on the Jacksonville and Selma Railroad. Three hundred acres open for cultivation, the balance heavily timbered with pine and oak. One lot, 100 acres is detached from the main body. Improvements a large framed dwelling with 8 good sized rooms well finished, located in a beautiful oak grove—all necessary out buildings. There is a large never failing spring within 100 yards of the house with a branch flowing from it nearly large enough to turn a mill—also a well of fine water in the yard—it has on it also a large gin house—a large apple and peach orchard, and taken altogether is one of the most desirable and desirable farms in North Alabama.

ALSO—A Farm of 800 acres more or less in Calhoun County, Ala., within 8 miles of Jacksonville, 1 mile of Alexandria and 7 miles of Blue Mountain Station on the Jacksonville and Selma Railroad—350 acres cleared the balance in original forest heavily timbered. This farm is very richly watered by spring branches which head on the place—80 acres of the open land is cedar bottom of very superior quality producing a good crop of 50 bushels of corn per acre and 1 bushel of cotton. Improvements—a large well finished frame house and all necessary out buildings in a good state of preservation. There is a Baptist church on the land—and the society in the neighborhood equal to any in the State. This farm in the hands of a good practical farmer could be made one of the most productive in the region in which it is located. It has on it 12 miles of cedar fencing taken off the cedar bottom. Lime stone is very abundant on the place which could be converted into lime at very little cost either for market or for fertilizing purposes on the farm.

Affecting Scene in Court.

A BABY PROVES ITS MOTHER'S INNOCENCE.
[Paris Correspondence of a London paper.]

A poor, pale, wan seamstress was arraigned for theft. She appeared at the bar with a baby of eleven or twelve months in her arms, her child. She went to get work one day, and stole three gold coins of 10f. each. The money was missed soon after she left her employer, and a servant was sent to her rooms to claim it. The servant found her about to quit her rooms with the three gold coins in her hand. She said to the servant, "I was going to carry them back to you." Nevertheless she was carried to the Commissioner of Police, and he ordered her to be sent before the Police Court for trial. She was too poor to engage a lawyer, and when asked by the Judge what she had to say for herself, she answered: "The day I went to my employer's I carried my child with me. It was in my arms as it is now. I was not paying attention to it. There were several gold coins on the mantle piece and unknown to me it reached out its little hand and seized three pieces, which I did not observe until I got home, I at once put on my bonnet, and was going back to my employer to return them, when I was arrested. This is the solemn truth, as I hope for Heaven's mercy."

They could not believe this story. They upbraided the mother for her impudence in endeavoring to palm off such a manifest lie for the truth. They besought her for her own sake to retract so absurd a tale, for it could have no effect, but oblige the court to sentence her so much severer punishment than they were disposed to inflict on one so young and evidently steeped so deep in poverty. These appeals had no effect except to strengthen the poor mother's pertinacious adherence to her original story. As this firmness was sustained by that look of innocence which the most adroit criminal can never counterfeit, the court were at some loss to discover what decision justly demanded.

To relieve their embarrassment, one of the judges proposed to renew the scene described by the mother. Three gold coins were placed on the clerk's table. The mother was requested to assume the position in which she said she stood at her employer's house. There was then a breathless pause in court. The baby soon discovered the bright coin, eyed it for a moment, smiled, and then stretched forth its tiny hand clutched them in its fingers with a miser's eagerness. The mother was acquitted.

A Hard Test.—A gentleman once heard a latrine man swear dreadfully in the presence of a number of his companions. He told him it was a cowardly thing to swear so in company, when he dared not to do it by himself. The man said he was not afraid to swear at any time or in any place. "I'll give you ten dollars," said the gentleman, "if you will go into the village church-yard, at twelve o'clock to-night, and swear the same oaths which you have uttered here when you are alone with your God."

"Agreed," said the man; "it is an easy way of earning ten dollars."

"Well, you come to me to-morrow, and say you have done it, and the money is yours."

The time passed on, midnight came. The man went to the grave-yard. It was a night of pitchy darkness. As he entered the grave-yard not a sound was heard; all was still as death. Then the gentleman's words, "alone with God," came over him with a wonderful power. The thought of the wickedness he had committed, and of what he had come there to do, darted across his mind like a flash of lightning. He trembled at his folly. Afraid to take another step he fell on his knees, and instead of the dreadful oaths he came to utter the earnest cry went up, "God be merciful to me a sinner."

The next day he went to the gentleman and thanked him for what he had done, and said he had resolved not to swear another oath as long as he lived.

at one time occupied a high position, and is well known as the author of a work entitled "The Pioneer Preachers of Indiana." At one time he occupied a chair in the Northwestern Christian University, in this city.

The Jews.—An Israelite of Bavaria thus writes of the restoration of the chosen people:

The regathering of the Jews is now beginning to take place. Not only many single families immigrate to Palestine, but there have been formed a number of societies in almost every land on this continent to prepare an immigration on a large scale, provided with all possible means, money, implements and tools of every kind, to commence the cultivation of the long desolated land at once, and with the utmost vigor. There are men of considerable wealth among them, and not one without some means; enough, at least, to defray the expenses of the journey, and to purchase a plot of ground. I am happy to state that I am one of the leading members of a society forming here in Bavaria, which numbers already over nine hundred heads of families, besides a number of young people who would not form an alliance with the other sex until settled in the Holy Land, upon the soil of their rightful heritance. He also adds. The Gentiles hereabouts—that is, the petty German Protestant kingdoms and principalities—are even more astir about Palestine than the Jews.

I'LL VOTE FOR THE OTHER MAN.—The following story is told of a Revolutionary soldier, who was running for Congress.

It appears that he was opposed by much younger man, who had never "been to the wars," and it was the wont of "Revolutionary" to tell the people of the hardships he had endured.

Says he: "Follow citizens, I have fought and bled for my country—I helped whip the British and Indians. I have slept on the field of battle with no other covering than the canopy of heaven. I have walked over frozen ground till every foot-step was marked with blood."

Just about this time, one of the "sovereigns" who had become very much affected by this tale of woe, walks up in front of the speaker, wiping the tears from his eyes with the extremity of his coat-tail, and interrupting him, says:

"Did you say that you had fought the British and the Indians?"

"Yes," responded Revolutionary.

"Did you say that you had slept on the ground while serving your country without any cover?"

"Yes, sir, I did."

"Did you say you had followed the enemy of your country over frozen ground till every footstep was covered with blood?"

"Yes," exultingly, replied the speaker.

"Well then," says the tearful "sovereign," as he gave a sigh of painful emotion, "I'll be blamed if I don't think you've done enough for your country, and I'll vote for the other man."

THE SITUATION IN WASHINGTON.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Express writes:

The Radicals don't mean to have any reconciliation with the President, and he don't mean to concede anything to them. Therefore the breach must widen, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

The military and civil authorities at Mobile have issued orders establishing a strict quarantine off that port against all vessels from the West Indies where the cholera now prevails.

The following is from the New York Day Book:

Senator Wade says, in the United States Senate. "We can say, with St. Paul, that we have fought the good fight." Would to God you were able to say with St. Paul, also, that you had "finished your course."

The World publishes a special from Albany, which says private but reliable information from Burlington, Vt. States that uniforms for 150,000 men and 20,000 wives, of the very best pattern have been transported quietly, during the last ten days, from New York, and from Troy to Burlington, Vt., where they now remain concealed, awaiting the advance of the Fenian armies. An abundance is said to be deposited at Detroit, Buffalo, Ogdensburg, Plattsburg and Montpelier. Three companies of Fenian volunteers, commanded by efficient officers, have been organized in Burlington for service in Canada.

Dismissed.—A clerk was dismissed from the Treasury Department on last Friday for signing the call inviting Fred. Douglas to deliver in Washington his abusive tirade against the President.—Office holders hereabouts please take warning.

Congress.—The proceedings of Congress which reach us through the papers, are so irregular and desultory, that if we published all, our readers could form but little idea of the progress or probable result of proposed measures. From all that is published however, it is evident that the Radicals are receding from their extreme views and measures. This fact is noted by Northern Conservative as well as Southern papers. Whether this will proceed far enough to perfect any measures upon which a compromise settlement of existing difficulties can be effected, remains yet to be seen. Some of the Northern papers express the opinion that this is only a ruse, a new dodge, by the Republican Radicals, to gain some advantage, or perfect some new trick. In the mean time, new ideas have sprung up, as to the illegality and unconstitutionality of all the acts of this piece of a congress of the dis-United States, if the Radical theory prevails; and vague hints are thrown out that the President is considering a solution of difficulties in this direction. The New York legislature, and various Republican meetings in the North and West have recently endorsed the President's policy—he is daily growing stronger—the swelling waters are still rising, and would seem, must soon sweep away the impracticable barriers to the work of pacification and reconstruction, which the Republican, (now emphatically and truthfully called the revolutionary party) have erected. A proclamation by the President is daily looked for with great anxiety.

RELIEF FOR THE DESTITUTE.—A petition has been circulated in our community for some days, numerous signed asking the President and Directors of the Ala. & Tenn. R. Railroad to reduce the price of freight on corn purchased for the destitute and suffering in this section. In case of its success Mr. R. H. Wynne, who has recently returned from the Canabake country, thinks he can by means of private subscriptions here and favorable purchase there, procure for those who have no means to buy a large quantity of corn, at a cost, laid down at Blue Mountain of not more than $1 10 cts. per bushel. The destitution is greater and want more pressing than most persons at a distance, or even here imagine. Relief must come soon, or to some it will be forever too late. The reduction, we are informed has already been made by the Selma and Mississippi road, and we cannot believe the President and Directors of our road will prove less liberal and generous. We are confident not a single stockholder would be found to object. From the liberal donations made during the war, and other acts of munificence, we could almost vouch for the President of the Board, and until otherwise convinced, will not believe that the Directors will be less liberally or humanely inclined.

See advertisement of Col. H. Francis, who offers for sale a valuable tract of land in the neighborhood of Alexandria, on Tallaschatchee creek. The land is offered at a low price and terms favorable—such another opportunity to procure really valuable, well improved lands may not soon occur.

E. L. Woodward has just received a lot of Corn, which is offered for sale on reasonable terms.

R. H. Wynne wishes to engage a number of field hands, some with families and some without, to whom liberal wages are offered—see advertisement in another column.

THE FENIANS.—From the frequent but brief allusions to the movements of this mysterious association, it would seem that they are about to tear a board off the pig pen, or do something else desperate soon. In fact, like the Republican Radicals, they must do something soon, or collapse. Their movements may involve more important powers; but if nothing more, it would be a fine thing if they could enlist the sympathies of the Radicals, and cause at least a temporary diversion from the negro mania.

DECLINE IN PRICE.—Perhaps there could be nothing more concomitant with the wishes and feelings of our people than the declaration that prices are rapidly declining in almost every article of consumption. By private letters from St. Louis and New York, and by our daily dispatches, the welcome news of a decline in gold, and a corresponding decline in the value of all articles of consumption is laid upon our table. So rapid is the reduction that most buyers have stopped their purchases, not knowing what the currency will be worth a few weeks hence. Gold has fallen to 130, a decline of ten per cent. in three weeks. Dry goods have declined 30 per cent. in Jacksonville in the same length of time—[Mississippians.

It has been announced by leading members of the Reconstruction Committee that the Supreme Court will soon deliver an opinion declaring that the test oath is unconstitutional. It is said that this announcement caused great consternation in the Radical ranks.

RELEASE OF ADMIRAL SEMMES.—President Johnson has ordered the discharge of this gentleman, who, it will be remembered, was arrested at his home in Mobile some months since, and carried to Washington. The correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger says:

The release of Semmes has been fore-shadowed twice in the Ledger's dispatches and the sudden "hitch" I have spoken of while the work of securing evidence was in progress, was the President's own act, and the result of a full examination of the case by the Executive. It is the order issued this morning for his discharge from further imprisonment. At no it is said, was the arrest approved by the President or the Lieutenant General, it being the opinion of each that the prisoner was protected by his parole. The letter of Semmes, himself, backed by the legal opinion of Judge Hughes, his counsel, was so conclusive on this point that the President was satisfied his further retention was no longer either just or advisable. It is the purpose of Semmes to return to Alabama immediately.

The Fenian excitement continues apparently unabated. O'Mahoney, Sweeney, Stephens, Roberts, Kilian, George Francis Train and a host of others, are demanding for Irish bond, that the Bank Note Company is unable to fill the orders, and greenbacks are positively refused at the Fenian-treasury. Counterfeits are now at work, and a large amount of bogus bonds are being shoved on to the market.

One of our clearest headed Selma merchants who constantly varies his advertisements in the Messenger, informs us that when he inserts a new advertisement his sales amount to from $1000 to $1400 per day; when he withdraws it they descend to $500. The moral is plain—Advertise.

Some Facts about Petroleum.

The oil regions of Western Pennsylvania, which far exceeds in productive-ness all other localities combined, comprises a district about 20 miles square, lying along the Allegheny river. Oil has also been found in considerable quantities in other parts of Pennsylvania, in Western Virginia, Eastern Kentucky and Ohio, New York and Canada. It is also known to exist in several of the Southern States. It is altogether a mistake, however, that a coal formation is an invariable indication of its presence.

The discovery of Petroleum, or rock oil, is more ancient than is generally believed. General Washington, in his expedition to French Creek, noticed the inhabitants skimming it from the water, to be used for burning or for medical purposes. General Montcalm in 1754 reports the Indians of Franklin, using the oil gathered from a neighboring creek in their paints and to burn at their sacrifices. In 1849 it was analyzed and found to be valuable as an illuminating fluid. In 1853 Professor Silliman discovered that it possessed valuable lubricating qualities. Upon the discovery a New York firm purchased a small farm in Venango county, near what is now known as Oil Creek. The first well was sunk in 1858. Owing to the difficulty of disengaging the oil from impurities and rendering it non-explosive, it was not until 1860, when these difficulties had been overcome; that the subject attracted general attention.

The magnificent success which attended the first investment created an intense excitement among capitalists and speculators. It is estimated that not less than twelve hundred oil mining companies were organized, with an aggregate nominal capital of from eight hundred to one thousand millions of dollars. Of these numerous vast organizations, about fifty are now flourishing, following their business as a regular branch of industry, and realizing large and certain profits. The remaining eleven hundred and fifty have all lost money.

In many instances, however, the yields and the products from the wells have been enormous. The flowing wells at Pithole, where the oil flowed out in a continuous stream, yield from 700 to 1,500 barrels a day. On the other hand the price of the oil has been liable to great fluctuations. From 1860 to 1865, the price of crude oil varied from thirteen dollars and a half to ten cents a barrel; the average price has been about seven dollars a barrel. The fluctuations in price, have been, of course, due to corresponding fluctuations in the actual or expected supply. Many wells which yielded most abundantly at first, and were believed to be inexhaustible, have completely dried up.

For most of the foregoing facts, and for the following table showing the number of gallons exported during five years we are indebted to DeBow's Review:

1861, exported.....	gallons 1,112,475
1862, exported.....	gallons 10,887,431
1863, exported.....	gallons 28,250,721
1864, exported.....	gallons 32,582,972
1865, exported.....	gallons 28,456,032

While it is probable that the permanent yield of Petroleum will be less than it has been it is confidently believed that it will continue to be sufficient to constitute it an important interest. Notwithstanding the inevitable disappointment of enthusiasts and speculators the Pennsylvania oil district, which ten years ago, might have been bought for seven hundred thousand dollars, is at this day held to be worth more than two hundred and fifty millions. This district, so recently solely devoted to agriculture, is now teeming with well organized commercial industry. It already contains numerous towns and villages, which have sprung up as if by magic around the wells, among them are some considerable pretensions. Oil City, Roseville, Plumer, Oilopolis, Pithole City, Titusville, Franklin and Reno have all sprung into existence with a surprising suddenness and rapidity.

As an instance Pithole City, containing seven thousand souls and supporting hotels, churches; a theatre, banks, land offices, telegraph and express companies, newspapers, and, as a tourist remarks, everything necessary to city life except women and railroads, is the growth of ninety days. Railroads are already in process of construction, and subterranean pipes are being laid to conduct the oil for miles directly from the wells to the boats in the Allegheny river.

Petroleum, to the North during the war, was an immense source of wealth. Confidence, was restored by the revenue derived from it during a period of great financial pressure.—And the balance of foreign exchange was made largely in favor of the United States, when the military situation seemed to promise an interminable conflict of arms.

Chron. & Sen.

In his speech Mr. Stevens made the following proposition, which we should call to mind for his radical friend: "To you who do not desire these reforms, or any of them, I say frankly it is of no importance by whom, or when, or how, reconstruction is effected. For in three short years this whole Government will be in the hands of the late rebels and their Northern allies."

New York, March 18.—The steamer Germania from Southampton, the 7th inst., has arrived with Liverpool dates to the 7th inst.

The Germania brings seven hundred passengers.

ENGLAND.—In the House of Lords the standing orders were suspended to allow the cattle plague bill to pass through all the stages.

The London Times says: "The courage and decision of President Johnson in refusing his assent to the Bureau bill will entitle him to credit as one of the ablest statesmen who has ever conducted America through a perilous crisis, by firmness and moderation."

AUSTRIA.—Vienna telegrams announce that rumors of a war like character are continually circulating and it is rumored that Prince Congo had addressed the Dignitaries and Powers of the Paris Treaty, against his forced abdication and soliciting their assistance for reinstatement.

GERMANY.—Great uneasiness is manifested as to the consequences of a collision between Austria and Prussia on the Duchies question. A separate ministry for Hungary is denied.

New York, March 19.—Brazilian advices say there has been no new movement of importance in the river Platte war.

The grand attempt of the allies to advance had not taken place. The hostile armies were confronting each other on this opposite sides of the Panama river.

Additional Brazilian gunboats and ironclads were on the way to the seat of war.

Reinforcements of 4,000 men to the allies had arrived, and munitions and supplies.

New York, March 19.—The Tribune's Paris correspondent writes that Seward's answer to Dr. de L'Huy's dispatch of January 5th had arrived, though the French Government had not yet pronounced officially upon it.

The Cabinet are very much pleased with its contents. While reentering all the United States Government has ever aid upon the Mexican question, Seward has used such language as will probably cause France to consider it as not incompatible with its own views. The impression receives them from a load of anxiety and the relations of France and the United States in regard to Mexico now stand on very good footing.

The Herald's Washington special says the President yesterday received a dispatch from the Provisional Governor of Texas giving a more hopeful account of the doing of the State convention than any heretofore published. The Governor says the material measures, similar to those adopted by Alabama, are likely to prevail, and that no trouble will occur relative to the repudiation of the Confederate war debts, and that the freedmen will be treated more satisfactorily than by most of the other States. The principal difference of opinion was whether the ordinance of secession should be merely repealed or absolutely null and void from the beginning.

LATER.

HALIFAX, March 19.—There is great excitement here and startling rumor afloat. The artillery are manning all the forts and the militia called out by proclamation. Arms and ammunition will be given them to-day, and the engineers have been very busy since Friday.

St. Patrick's Day was celebrated with the usual ceremonies and no disturbances.

New York, March 19.—The Wisconsin Legislature has defeated the bill restoring the death penalty, and the Wisconsin Senate have struck out the word "white" in regard to the qualifications of electors.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—In the House Mr. Hooper introduced a bill enabling the Secretary of the Treasury to sell certain bonds, and retire and cancel Treasury notes, certificates and other obligation-bearing interest to a similar account.—Referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

Mr. Dawson introduced a resolution that the United States cannot guarantee the bonds of Mexico nor any other government without impairing its own credit. The House refused to accept the question thereon, and the resolution went over.

The House, by a vote of 81 to 67 reconsidered the resolution whereby the loan bill was rejected on Friday last.

In the Senate the House amendment to the bill providing homes for totally destitute soldiers were concurred in, and the bill passed.

Mr. Davis replying to Fessenden advocates allowing the claimants for seats as Southern Senators and representatives to represent and cross-examine witnesses.

It is proposed to joint resolution be introduced discharging the Committee of Pithole from the further consideration of the Southern States, and that immediately after its passage, which is said to be assured, the credentials of the Southern members will be properly referred. It is that a majority of both Houses is in favor of this course.

New York, March 20.—Havana advices by the Manhattan state that the numerous fires throughout the Island are attributed to negro incendiaries.—The Royal Commission at Havana reported further progress of the Royal Commission, investigating the Jamaica revolt. The evidence, it is said, shows the affair a deliberate organized rebellion, with the ultimate design of murdering or driving from the Island all the white people of Jamaica who desire the annexation of that Island to the United States.

Sixty persons had been arrested in Hayti, charged with being concerned in the revolutionary movements of that Republic, and it was supposed twenty of them would be executed.

The Herald's Rio Janeiro correspondent says immense preparations are making for a battle on the river Platte.—The allied army, Paraguayans and Uruguayans have congregated to the number of 50,000 men, (5,000 with the naval fleet) on the bank of the Paraguay river, which is controlled on the north side by 20,000 Paraguayans.

Defensive works of great strength however neutralize the numerical advantage of the allies. The design is now to attempt the passage of the river, when a desperate struggle is expected. Skirmishing had occurred, and the allies had repulsed the Paraguayans with small loss.

New York, March 20.—The Central Council of Fenians are in secret session at Union Square. Funds and rifles are still flowing in.

It is reported that O'Mahoney has within a few days sent 5,000 men to some point unknown.

Sweeney's force is estimated at 53,600, and he is expecting the number doubled before the month closes.

Vera Cruz advices show that the promised Imperial pacification is as far as ever from being accomplished.—The republicans maintain the contest stubbornly. There is no apparent intention of the French Government to withdraw.

Mendoza's victory over the republicans in Michoacan is said to be much more important than at first reported.—Mendoza says he fought a hard battle with several chiefs combined. His own losses were severe.

The Republicans in force are threatening Tampico, which place the Imperialists occupy.—The Republicans had made three attacks upon the garrison of Mazatlan within five weeks.

At Maury, Maximilian's colonization Minister has left for England.

A dispatch from Toronto (C. W.) of the 12th says: The number of volunteers answering the Government's call is largely in excess of the demand. An official military order has been published by the Commander in Chief in which he regret, he is compelled as a measure of precaution, to call for the service of so large a number of volunteers. This step does not result from the existence of a condition of war between our sovereign and foreign States. But it is a necessary performance of duty which has devolved upon the Government to make provision for protecting the lives and property of the inhabitants of the Province and against threatened attacks of lawless men, who use the territory of a neighboring power for the purpose of openly organizing an enterprise against the sovereign right of the Queen and the security of her subjects.

The London Herald says movements have been begun for laying the Atlantic Cable during the coming summer. As at present arranged, the Great Eastern will carry the new cable and lay it to Newfoundland; will then coil and return to mid-Atlantic, where she will with her consort, grapple for the last end, the locality of which can be ascertained within a quarter of a mile, though the observations taken last summer by Capt. Cudworth and Capt. M'arty.

It is said that it has been reliably ascertained that the military excitement going on in Canada is the result of direct special commands from the Crown of Great Britain, for the purpose of diverting the attention of the Fenian Brotherhood from Ireland as the grand objective point, and to precipitate the Union of the Province, with Prince Alfred on an American throne. The agents of England are now here, laden with gold to carry out the plan, but they have been foiled by the detective system of the Fenian Brotherhood, which ramifies society in the country of Sir Frederick Bruce in Washington and the Governor-General in Canada. Further particulars of these astounding developments will be given to the public immediately. The bearer of the dispatches from the Queen of England, and who carried the orders above referred to, is a Fenian, and is now in New York.

THE LONDON HERALD SAYS MOVEMENTS HAVE BEEN BEGUN FOR LAYING THE ATLANTIC CABLE DURING THE COMING SUMMER. AS AT PRESENT ARRANGED, THE GREAT EASTERN WILL CARRY THE NEW CABLE AND LAY IT TO NEWFOUNDLAND; WILL THEN COIL AND RETURN TO MID-ATLANTIC, WHERE SHE WILL WITH HER CONSORT, GRAPPLE FOR THE LAST END, THE LOCALITY OF WHICH CAN BE ASCERTAINED WITHIN A QUARTER OF A MILE, THOUGH THE OBSERVATIONS TAKEN LAST SUMMER BY CAPT. CUDWORTH AND CAPT. M'ARTY.

IT IS SAID THAT IT HAS BEEN RELIABLY ASCERTAINED THAT THE MILITARY EXCITEMENT GOING ON IN CANADA IS THE RESULT OF DIRECT SPECIAL COMMANDS FROM THE CROWN OF GREAT BRITAIN, FOR THE PURPOSE OF DIVERTING THE ATTENTION OF THE FENIAN BROTHERHOOD FROM IRELAND AS THE GRAND OBJECTIVE POINT, AND TO PRECIPITATE THE UNION OF THE PROVINCE, WITH PRINCE ALFRED ON AN AMERICAN THRONE. THE AGENTS OF ENGLAND ARE NOW HERE, LADEN WITH GOLD TO CARRY OUT THE PLAN, BUT THEY HAVE BEEN FOILED BY THE DETECTIVE SYSTEM OF THE FENIAN BROTHERHOOD, WHICH RAMIFIES SOCIETY IN THE COUNTRY OF SIR FREDERICK BRUCE IN WASHINGTON AND THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL IN CANADA. FURTHER PARTICULARS OF THESE ASTOUNDING DEVELOPMENTS WILL BE GIVEN TO THE PUBLIC IMMEDIATELY. THE BEARER OF THE DISPATCHES FROM THE QUEEN OF ENGLAND, AND WHO CARRIED THE ORDERS ABOVE REFERRED TO, IS A FENIAN, AND IS NOW IN NEW YORK.

Auction Sale of Goods.—Mr. J. Copeland, Merchant of this place, will offer for sale at Auction, on Monday and Tuesday next, a large quantity of Goods and Groceries. The sale will be without reservation, and every article offered positively sold at whatever price it may bring. Ladies are invited to attend, as a large assortment of Goods, suitable for them will be offered. Attend and test this opportunity to obtain Goods cheap.

COTTON SEED OF LAST YEARS GROWTH.—E. L. Woodward has just received a lot of Cotton Seed, which he offers for sale, as he does every thing else, at very reasonable rates.

Circuit Court.—The Spring Term of our Circuit Court has been in session since Monday last, Hon. JOHN HENDERSON presiding, J. H. Caldwell, Solicitor, J. M. Anderson, Sheriff, and G. B. Doughty, Clerk. The civil business which has occupied this week, though not extensive has been very harmoniously and efficiently transacted. Our new sheriff, Capt. J. M. Anderson, has proved himself an excellent and efficient officer. The Grand Jury we understand has had an unusual amount of business before them, upon which they have been laboring with diligence and zeal for the cause of Justice and the public good. The State docket will be taken up next week, but no doubt will be light in consequence of the pardoning Proclamation of the Governor.

Stockholders' Convention.—The attention of all interested, is invited to the Notice of Convention of Stockholders of the Ala. & Tenn. R. Railroad to be held in Selma, Ala. on Wednesday the 9th day of May next, for the purpose of electing a President and Directors of the Company.

There has perhaps been no more important meeting of the Stockholders since the Road was commenced, and it is earnestly desired and hoped that every stockholder may attend in person, or be represented by proxy. Those who cannot attend in person may find blank proxies or powers of attorney in the hands of Maj. B. C. Wyly of this place.

We understand that a proposition was made to the Board of Directors at their late meeting, by a competent Company to finish the Road from Blue Mountain to Dalton, for a lease on the Road for ten years, then to be returned to the Company in good repair. We are not at present informed at what time it is proposed to have the road finished, or how much if any of the present debt is to be paid; therefore, for the want of definite information are not prepared for the expression of opinion on the subject but expect to recur to it again soon. This proposition has been accepted by the Board, subject to the ratification of the Stockholders at the ensuing Convention in May.

The attention of citizens of Oxford and vicinity is invited to the card of Dr. S. C. Williams, a long established, experienced and successful practitioner of Medicine in that place.

See in another column the appointments of W. P. Howell, Tax Assessor of this county. As the Assessor is pressed for time to comply with the requisitions of the law, and can make but one round of appointments, and as the law is stringent and penalties heavy for a failure to give in, we would advise tax-payers to be prompt to meet him at the times and places appointed.

We expect in our next to publish a synopsis, prepared by our senator from this county, of the principal features of the law, for the information of the people.

THAT BIG DEVIL.—We learn that the monster that frightened several families in Kentucky several weeks since, an account of which we published last week and now ceases to be a wonder. It seems that the device was gotten up for this purpose of frightening some negroes, with perhaps the incidental intention of robbing. To accomplish this purpose a light frame work was made in such a manner that a man could walk inside of it and blow through a tube coming out of the monster's mouth, a composition of phosphorus, sulphur and perhaps saltpetre. The joke was a little too serious, but was played most admirably.—Rome Courier.

COLORED TROOPS.—It is said that within a short time some 40,000 colored troops in the South will be mustered out of service; 3,000 in South Carolina will be mustered out. The people of the South will be thankful for this simply because they believe they can get along better without them. The white troops are better calculated to preserve order and protect the interests of the Government; and if they are all as orderly as those in Augusta, the South will have nothing to complain of in that respect.—Augusta press.

Pennsylvania is caring for the orphans of her soldiers more liberally than any other State. She has assumed the care of two thousand now in the public schools at a cost of about $150 a piece per annum, exclusive of clothing.

What is to be Done?

The disunion conspirators in Congress, representing a part of the States, yet persist in keeping the doors of Congress locked upon the delegates from other States.—The practical question arises, what is to be done, for this state of things can not long be submitted to. The constitutional provision which makes each House of Congress the Judge of the qualifications of its own members, does not authorize a part of the States to exclude other States that have equal rights with themselves. Any attempt of this character is treason against the Government. The doors of Congress must be thrown open to all the States. If they are closed on a portion, they must be forced aside. For three months we have had no Congress of the United States in session, but only a rump portion of one, that has usurped the functions of the whole body. For all political evils there is a remedy. It is time that the revolutionary action of the conspirators in the House and Senate was checked.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

THE CALM BEFORE THE STORM.—CONGRESS QUIET.—THE PEOPLE MOVING.—IMPENDING STORM.—There has been a calm in Congress since the veto and speech of the President of the 22d ult. The general query has been, what does it mean? Many supposed it presaged a compromise—a bridging over of difficulties between the President and Congress.

It would seem, however, that the lull was merely to enable the Radicals over the country to take position publicly against the President. That class have been holding meetings in nearly every Northern State to censure or denounce the President for his veto and speech. The resolutions of this class have been personally bitter and politically revolutionary. They aimed at the removal of the President by impeachment or resolution of Congress, or revolutionary force. These constitute the Republican party proper.

Another class of citizens sustain the policy of the President for the preservation of the Union, and forgetting past differences, resolve to stand by him, while he stands by the Constitution and Union.

Another class, who hope to keep dis

similarly together, hold public meetings and resolve in favor of both Congress and the President. Of course they are the laughter of the whole world. It is now a choice between God and Mammon; which will you declare for? "The Constitution and Union," or the "Irresponsible Directory" of Congress—the speedy restoration of the Union, or anarchy and disturbance for years—the equality of negroes, or the supremacy of the white race in the affairs of Government? Cincinnati Enquirer.

THE ABOLITION BREAD PREDICTED.—The Honorable Thomas F. Marshall, during the session of January, 1842, on a resolution censuring John Q. Adams for presenting a petition to Congress for a dissolution of the Union drew the following correct picture of the scenes we have just realized:

A more fearful strife than that which convulsed Europe two hundred years ago, is to afflict the sun, and pollute the blessed light of heaven, on the soil of these once free and happy States. The fierce and vengeful fanatic, true to the principles of his fathers, and the sworn champion of universal emancipation, holding in one hand his proclamation, of freedom and alliance to the slave, and a frebrand in the other—elated, too, with the consciousness of numerical superiority—is to invade the South, and avenge the wrongs of Africa in massacre and conflagration.

He will be met. The haughty slaveholder will greet the new crusader with bloodiest welcome. The cavalier's sword will leap from the scabbard, in vindication of a broken covenant, a violated National compact, to which he had vainly trusted as a shield to his property and his rights.

Surrounded by his household gods, in defence of his hearthstone, the honor of his wife, the purity of his weapon to the hilt.

"To patriot vengeance ne'er hath sword.
More terrible libations poured."
And should he fall, "outnumbered, not outbraved," it will be amid the ashes of all he holds dear—his home, his family, his country, his race.

THE COAST CLEAR TO MEXICO.—The Atlanta News says: "There is no order of the U. S. authorities prohibiting citizens from emigrating to Mexico or any other country unless at the time a charge is pending against them for the violation of some law of this government. Such as desire to know the truth with regard to the privilege of expatriation, may rely on this.—We have seen it privately, but officially announced, by the Secretary of State, Hon. Wm. H. Seward, in reply to a letter of inquiry written by a gentleman in this city."

THE SAVANNAH REPUBLICAN.—On the advent of the army under Gen. Sherman into Savannah, the office of the Republican was turned over, we believe to Mr. J. Hay's of Massachusetts, who has, since the occupation, been publishing the paper under the title of the Savannah National Republican.

Its former proprietor, Col. W. F. Folsom, having laid claims for his property before President Johnson, we are informed that the Commander of the District, Gen. Brannan, received orders from the President to restore the property of Col. Folsom. This is but another evidence of the good will of President Johnson to do all in his power to restore property to those of our people who have been illegally deprived of it, and we sincerely trust that the many good offices which he has done, and is doing, to promote the welfare of the South, will be properly appreciated by yielding the President a hearty support in his policy of restoration.—Constitutionalist

AN ASTONISHING SECRET.—The German papers announce the death, at Magdeburg, of a learned physician, Dr. Julius Von dem Fischweiler, who in his will has left the world the following scientific secret, viz:

That his own great age, one hundred and nine, is entirely to be ascribed to his constant habit of sleeping with his head toward the North, and the rest of his body in a direction coinciding as closely as possible with that of the meridian, that is with his heels to the South.

The Knoxville Commercial, of the 10th, reports the cold-blooded and fiendish murder of a man named Montgomery, near Westport, Tenn., last week.

On Friday afternoon, in accordance with orders from Washington, S. R. He was released in consequence of representations by his physicians that prolonged confinement would be fatal. He will join his family in England, and is residing for some time in Connecticut.

A BLOODY DUEL.—A correspondent at Columbia, Arkansas, sends us an account of a tragic affair which occurred near that place, on the 28th of February. It seems that Major A. B. Rue, formerly a member of General John Morgan's command, and a Colonel Tryman, also an officer in the Confederate army, had some personal difficulties, which ended in a challenge to settle the matter. The place selected for the settlement of the dispute was Point Obit, a secluded spot upon the Mississippi river. The weapons used were bowie knives. Major Rue was wounded in the arm, and Colonel Tryman received three wounds in the body, which are thought to be mortal. The latter was also severely injured in the face, his eye being entirely served, and one of his legs so injured as greatly to impair it, not entirely destroy his sight. The Colonel's second was slightly wounded by a thrust from Major Rue's.

New Albany Ledger.

A desperate conflict occurred recently in Stewart county, Georgia, between planters and outlaws, and some negroes. Three whites and seven negroes were killed.

It is proposed that a joint resolution will soon be introduced, discharging the committee of fifteen from the further consideration of the bill for the admission of the Southern States, and that immediately after its passage which is said to be assured, the credentials of the Southern members will be properly referred. It is said that a majority of both Houses is in favor of this course.

A VERY CURIOUS INCIDENT.—The Baton Rouge Advocate relates the following strange incident of the fight at Port Hudson:

That our fire was not without effect, was evident to us from the manner in which their batteries kept shifting position. On one occasion this change of quarters brought about by themselves in rather an unusual manner, Capt. Coffin having received instructions to be very economical in the use of his ammunition, had loaded and aimed his 24 pound gun, and leaving it to wait for the enemy to show themselves, he sat down behind the parapet and became engaged in conversation with some other officers. Suddenly he heard the report of his gun's discharge, and looking up with some anger, called out to know who fired that gun, supposing that his gunner had touched her off without waiting for orders.

He saw from the recoil of the gun, and from the smoke hovering over the vent, that the gun had been fired, and yet the slow match was quietly burning in its position, and not a man was standing in the battery. Just then an officer of light artillery, who had observed the whole affair called out to Capt. Coffin that the enemy had fired his gun. On examination, it proved to be so. A parrot shell or shot had come right over the gun and grazed it on the upper part of the barrel, making a slight scratch. The action which this produced was that the gunner, who was engaged in conversation with some other officers, started up and quickly fired the gun.

It was urged that the credit of an acquaintance should be given to the man who was my friend, and my friends were few, and I will be as now that his name is many.

The interments in the city cemetery of Augusta for the month of February were 168—32 whites and 126 blacks.

FOREIGN APPRECIATION OF PRESIDENT JOHNSON.—In the British Parliament, in the course of the debate upon the Queen's speech, said the Earl of Derby:

We all must concur in rejoicing, that, after years of bloody warfare, sanguinary war, has been put an end to in the new United States of America. I fully concur with the speech in commending the wise and prudent manner in which, after the war had terminated, the President has sought to repair the ravages of civil war. [Hear, hear.] He seems to seek the best means of restoring the tranquility of the country, and we cannot refrain from hoping that his efforts will be crowned with success. The abolition of slavery in America has entailed much misery on the slave himself, and that they are but very imperfectly prepared to undertake the duties and responsibilities of freedom.

A Little Bluster.

The truth is, we might almost as well be at open war with the United States as remain as we are, subject to the hostile incursions of their subjects and exposed to the imminent danger of a civil war of their instigation, which would prove far more disastrous, and far more costly too, than any foreign one we could be engaged in. The dignified and decided conduct of France in her diplomatic communications with the United States on the Mexican question should form an example to be followed by the British Cabinet. * * * There can be but little doubt that Fenianism might quickly be reduced to harmless proportions, if Mr. Johnson and his Cabinet, seeing the peril of further inaction, would cut off the supply by means of which propagandists are enabled to make their way into Ireland to secure our soldiers from their allegiance and spread disaffection among the people.

Obituary.

Little Lewis Augustus, only child of Mr. Augustus M. and Mrs. Phoebe M. Bradford, was born in Oxford on the 10th day of July, 1854, and died at the residence of his grandfather Robertson in Oxford, Calhoun county, Ala. on the 28th day of Nov., 1865, aged one year four months and eighteen days.

Words can but faintly express the desolation of that home of which he was the crowning ornament, the pride of fond parents, and grandparents. Little Lewis was too young to have acquired much of the knowledge and love, discipline and sweet temper, which are the fruit of a speaking and responsive good intellect. He was just at that age when playful merriment and a bending intellect makes every look, word and action sweet. He was the only child and pledge of the first love of his parents, and his loss has left in their hearts an aching void which nothing but the grace of God can fill. Why he was taken, when so young and innocent, it is not for us to say, but we believe that He who does all things well designed some good. Our blessed Savior has said, "suffer little children to come unto me," and who would desire that he should come back to this world of sorrow. May this heavy affliction be sanctified to the good of the parents, and may the grace of God sustain them in their deep bereavement. In life, dear child, none knew thee but to glory. I do thy parents—their greatest joy; But God hath taken thee to realms above, To claim thee as his own, my darling boy.

THE FINE BROTHERS.

A TRUE STORY OF THE SCENE OF EAST HUSKINSON.

It is said that fact is stranger than fiction. How true this is, is exemplified in the following true story of the brothers, twins, which occurred during the memorable siege of Port Hudson. Passing one day through the streets of that little town, we noticed two corpses lying upon the gallery of the carpenter's shop, awaiting their turn for boxes dignified with the title of coffins to consign them to their last resting place. They were bodies of tall stature, stout and well built, belyokening to hardy backwoodsmen of the Southwest. Over the face of each was thrown a cloth through which the blood was oozing, showing that they had received the death wounds through the head.

It was uncommon sight during the siege to see death in every form, from the body pierced by the single bullet to one shattered to atoms by the cannon ball or fearful mortar shell. Yet there was something in the appearance of the bodies which riveted our attention and induced the inquiry as to who they were. A rough grizzled soldier in a Confederate soldier was standing side; whose arm, tied up, showed at for the present he was unfit for active service. The tears were trickling down his cheeks as he gazed mournfully upon the dead before him, while his quivering lip told better than words that they had been more to him than simple comrades of the tent and field.

He related their story in a few words: "They were my sons," said he, "and one twin. One of them joined at the same time I did. We came here with an. Beale, and have done our duty to the best of our knowledge and I believe the satisfaction of our officers."

"This morning, sir, while at the meatworks, one of my boys, in order to get good aim at the snaphooters outside, thoughtlessly raised himself too high, when a rifle ball pierced his brain, and he fell dead at my feet. His brother, seeing him fall, sprang forward to catch him up, but in so doing, exposed himself above the line of defenses, when he, too, received a ball through the chest, and he fell dead upon the still quivering corps of his brother. As they came into the world, so they went out of it—together. In removing their bodies from the breast-works, I got wounded, which has since ended my arm. Would that I had died with them, sir, or I have no one now to love upon this earth."

"And their mother—you, wife?"

"Died, sir in giving them birth."

One coffin received the remains of the twins, and a few days later, while sitting in front of his tent, an expiring shell gave a deadly wound to the heartbroken father.

A Radical's Description of the President

HIS GREAT POWER AND ABILITY CONCEDED.

Mr. John D. Baldwin, member of Congress from Massachusetts, writes the following description of Andrew Johnson and his late speech. Baldwin is one of the Sumner-Stevens stripe in politics:

What the President said is before the country. How he said it, my poor wits fail to tell. For the first time I stood near and looked closely on the man. In the course of an eventful life I have seen many men of will power and force, but never before have I looked on one so thoroughly embodying the evil spirits of revolution. It will not do to underrate Mr. Johnson. He is terribly in earnest, and vitally most vindictively cool. A thoroughly paid demagogue, his inconsequential logic, his thorough belief in himself, and his popularity, are all elements of strength.

...we face such assemblies as were denounced about him yesterday. Andrew Johnson is an able man; how able, I never realized till yesterday. All results are involved in his policy. Had he a cabinet as able and desperate, the dire results which the near future would bring could hardly be named now. We stand on the verge of fierce strife, to decide which the country should gather itself to fight and give up its toils. This man is no weak Buchanan, and he means to crush Congress or be crushed.

Johnson is a man of stalwart make—just above middle stature, broad shoulders, firm set, and erect posture, as almost to seem below it. He has a large head. It is compact none the less, fiery will and brain.

His face is marked, strong oval outline, powerful under jaw, well defined but rather sharp chin, a wide, straight mouth, full flexible lips, skin coarse in texture but firm, complexion swarthy, hair coarse-black streaked with grey, nose sunk at the root, but full and large at the nostril, which expand and lift as he speaks, broad, roomy forehead, beetling bushy eyebrows, beneath which are a pair of the coldest hazel grey eyes I ever saw in a human being; these are the outlines of Andrew Johnson.

His voice is clear, harsh, powerful and penetrating. When he seems speaking with most excitement, he is evidently the coolest man in the world. I watched him with the weakened powers of one who felt the magnitude of the thing upon him, and was watching him, and I saw that his eye was not looking at me, and noted that he was not listening to me. When he spoke he seemed to speak directly to his audience, and I felt that he was speaking to me. When he spoke he seemed to speak directly to his audience, and I felt that he was speaking to me.

Court of Probate for said county; Regular Term, March 12, 1866.

THIS day came James Hollingsworth, administrator of the Estate of Judge John Hollingsworth, deceased, and filed his application setting forth among other things, that said deceased was the owner and in possession of the following described lands, to-wit: The south east half of the south east quarter of section 25, township 14, range 8, east in the Coosa and District—that said land cannot be equitably, fairly and beneficially divided among the heirs and legatees of said deceased, and therefore, he asks an order of Court, authorizing a sale of said lands for that purpose.

He further states, that the following named persons, heirs and legatees of said estate are residing in the State of Arkansas:—
J. W. W. Hollingsworth, son of said deceased,
J. W. W. Hollingsworth, and Charles Hollingsworth, all of full age, who reside in the State of Arkansas.

It is therefore ordered by the court, that on Friday the 11th day of May next be set for the hearing of said application, and that notice of the filing of the same be given by publication in the Jacksonville Republican, a newspaper printed and published in the Town of Jacksonville, Alabama, on three consecutive weeks, and at least forty days prior to said day, as a notice to said non-resident heirs and legatees of said estate, as well as all other persons interested in said application, to be and appear before me, at my office in the Town of Jacksonville, on said Monday the 11th day of May next, when and where they can contest said application if they desire.

Given under my hand at office this 22nd day of March, A. D. 1866.
